

LEGAL AID COMMISSION (ACT)

Objectives

The Legal Aid Commission (the Commission), established by the Legal Aid Act 1977 (the Act), provides legal assistance in accordance with the Act. The assistance may be provided by private legal practitioners or the Commission's own officers. The Commission also represents regional residents whose legal proceedings take place in the ACT.

The main objective of the Commission is to maximise access to justice in the ACT by providing legal services to disadvantaged members of the community.

As well as legal representation, the Commission provides other services such as duty lawyers, advice, community education and input on law reform.

2007-08 Priorities

Strategic and operational issues to be pursued in 2007-08 include:

- negotiating a new ACT/Australian Government funding agreement;
- expanding duty lawyer services at the ACT Magistrates Court to support the new Criminal Listing procedures;
- reviewing and developing legal aid services in civil law matters;
- undertaking a feasibility study into a Prisoners Legal Advice service at the new ACT prison; and
- developing procedures for electronic application lodgement, eligibility assessment and funds transfer to meet existing and developing requirements of clients and legal practitioners.

Output Description

Payments to private practitioners are made on the basis of pre-determined commitment levels set at the time of the granting of aid. Any amendments to the pre-determined amounts are done on a case-by-case assessment. This output is an indicator of the level of legal aid work being referred to, and performed by, private practitioners during the year.

Strategic Indicators

Strategic Indicator 1

Target Group Access to Legal Aid Services

The Legal Aid Commission's main objective is to maximise access to justice in the ACT by providing legal services to members of the community unable to afford the cost of appropriate legal representation. Performance relative to this objective is monitored by measuring grants of legal assistance to Legal Aid Commission target groups.

Notes to the Budget Statements

Significant variations are as follows:

Operating Statement

- government payment for outputs:
 - the decrease of $0.317 million in the 2006-07 estimated outcome from the original budget is mainly due to re-allocation of income received directly from the Australian Government; and
 - the increase of $0.131 million in the 2007-08 Budget from the 2006-07 estimated outcome is due to indexation and the new clerical certified agreement.
- user charges - non ACT Government: the increase of $0.029 million in the 2007-08 Budget from the 2006-07 estimated outcome is due to an increase in client contributions, recovered costs and indexation.
- grants from the Commonwealth: the increase of $0.618 million in the 2006-07 estimated outcome from original budget is due to re-allocation of income received directly from the Australian Government previously, received through Government Payments for Outputs and higher than anticipated grant levels.
- interest:
 - the increase of $0.268 million in the 2006-07 estimated outcome from the original budget is due to cash and investment balances being higher than expected; and
 - the decrease of $0.215 million in the 2007-08 Budget from the 2006-07 estimated outcome is due to expected reduction in cash balances due to an increase in the provision of services.

- employee expenses: the increase of $0.187 million in the 2006-07 estimated outcome from the original budget is mainly due to payments made on retirement and resignation of executive staff.
- superannuation expenses: the increase of $0.125 million in the 2006-07 estimated outcome from the original budget, and the decrease of $0.094 million in the 2007-08 Budget from the 2006-07 estimated outcome are due to changes in nominal contribution rates.
- supplies and services: the increase of $0.366 million in the 2007-08 Budget from the 2006-07 estimated outcome is mainly due to indexation and expenditure relating to an expected increase in service provision.

Balance Sheet

- cash:
 - the increase of $0.917 million in the 2006-07 estimated outcome from the original budget is mainly due to higher than expected grants from the Commonwealth and higher interest revenues; and
 - the decrease of $0.786 million in the 2007-08 Budget from the 2006-07 estimated outcome is mainly due to higher employee expenses and legal services.
- current receivables: the increase of $0.270 million in the 2006-07 estimated outcome from the original budget is a result of reclassification of receivables.
- other current assets: the increase of $0.044 million in the 2006-07 estimated outcome from the original budget is due to an increase in prepaid expenses.
- non-current receivables: the decrease of $0.178 million in the 2006-07 estimated outcome from the original budget is due to bad debts written off.
- property, plant and equipment:
 - the increase of $0.058 million in the 2006-07 estimated outcome from the original budget is due to the purchase of equipment during the year; and
 - the decrease of $0.050 million in the 2007-08 budget from the 2006-07 estimated outcome is due to most items being depreciated in full.
- current payables: the increase of $0.114 million in the 2006-07 estimated outcome from the original budget is due to the increase in private practitioner payment scales.
- employee benefits non-current: the decrease of $0.039 million in the 2006-07 estimated outcome from the original budget is due to the retirement and resignation of executive staff with long service and the ACT Accounting Policy requirement to classify all annual leave and unconditional long service leave as current employee benefits. The change in policy is attributable to advice received regarding the interpretation of the Australian Accounting Standards.
